WORLD TAEKWONDO CHAMPIONSHIPS AT THE KENTUCKY EXPOSITION CENTER

LOUISVILLE, KY (October 14, 2014) – More than 1,500 competitors will vie for a championship at the 28th annual Hwang's Martial Arts World Taekwondo Championships at the Kentucky Exposition Center's Broadbent Arena Saturday, October 18. The championship kicks off at 9:00 a.m. with black belt competition. Color belt competition begins at 1:30 p.m. and competition continues to 5:00 p.m.

Hwang Martial Arts students will perform demonstrations in the opening ceremonies at 12:30 p.m. Teams will compete in breaking, weapons, poomsae (forms), with black belts also competing for the grand champion title.

The event showcases both American and international competitors and focuses on promoting confidence and building international friendship, including teams from Bermuda, Canada, Iowa and Alaska.

For more than 20 years, Hwang's Martial Arts has been teaching martial arts instruction in the Louisville community. Hwang's Martial Arts has received awards for education, leadership and their work with area charities.

Admission is $12 for adults and $6 for children. Parking at the Kentucky Exposition Center is $8 per vehicle.
